No government has a right to give a right or franchise created by the people in perpetuity, and posterity has a right to spic upon such a grant.''

N. O. Neban of St. Leads stoke next and was followed by William Temple Enimett. Mr. Enimett closed with a reference to Colonel Bryah, it constell a tremondous amount of enthusiasm and then followed another demonstration similar to that given on Saturday. It conduced for some moments and same she shouted "God blass you, Billy Bryan," whereat the crewd got up again and yelled and cheered for several minutes.

Speech of Colonel Bryan.

Speech of Colonel Bryan.

"Jefferson was a man of ideas. We are applying his ideas. We are apprying his ideas today to the questions which arise. They were not all applied in his day, they have not all been applyed since his day. Some people think that only on the battlefield can a man show his particulars. I thank God that I live in a land where peace hath her victories as well as war. I glory that we live in a land where every day presents an opportunity for men to show his love for his country. And I thank God that we live in this reneration, where the grandest principles are presented that have ever been presented to any generation since the history of man began.

gives this nation an opportunity to go forth with musket and with camon and carry it, ideas by force to other nations. I thank God that peace in this country gives an opportunity for all the strenuous life of the people. If we but begin to apply to our daily conditions the principles which we all accept, theories which we will not contradict, there is room enough for work for several generations yet to come.

"The declaration of independence is condensed into a few sentences, the principles which must underlie a government such as ours.

"My attention was called yesterday to the language used by Abraham Lincoln, in the edilogy of the declaration of independence. This is an opinion of the present gathering and I want to contribute to the spirit of the occasion by quoting what the great Republican said of the work of the greatest Democrat."

The audience listened intently as Mr.

New York, April 19—The second of the 'ome-dollar' Bryan dimners that under the assignors of the workingmen, was held tonight at the Grand Central Palaex. The dinner was not as largely attended as the one given by the Chicago platform Democratis in the same place on the preceding Saturday night, about 1,269 men and women being present.

The striking difference between these dinners was the scaling of the guested from tonight on the platform, where they were platfly visible to everybody in the half, Back of the appackers, painted on a canvase, was the following: "A system of pollitical economy will yet dawn which will perform as well as promises which will turn the riches of mature into the laps of the starving as promises; which will turn the riches of the property of the barks. There is a unanimous determination on the part of the members of the court to dispose of the subject with the greatest possible dispatch, and the statement was made teday that it was possible a finding might be reached before the close of the week.

Colonel Davis, recorder of the court, said today that more witnesses might be called, and that their examination would delay the final conclusion, but he hoped this would not be deferred to any great extent. There are some reports still to be read, but these will not consume much of the court's time.

NO CHOICE ON THE LAST BALLOT TAKEN YESTERDAY.

Long and Bitter Struggle That Has Been Carried On Since January 17-Fight Has Been Distinctly On Quay and Anti-Quay Lines-The Next Contest.

Harrisburg, Pa., April 19.—The grea today without an election, and unless at which there should be an election, at which there should be an election, Pennsylvania will have only one representative in the United States senute during the next two years. After the taking of the ballot in joint convention a motion was offered by Mr. Fow (Dem.) of Philadelphia and adopted, that a vote of thanks be tendered the officers, and that the convention adjourn sine die.

hour. Hence today's motion to adjourn finally.

There was no change in today's voting, the friends of ex-Senator Quay standing by him and the anti-Quay Republicans by B. F. Jones of Pitzsburg, while the Democrate cust their vote for George A. Jenks, who has been their candidate since the deadlock began.

Long and Fisrce Contest.

The sematorial contest began on Jan.

It. On that day Senator Quay received his highest vote, 112 senators and representatives casting their ballots for him. This was thirteen less than the number necessary to a choice, and he never came nearer an election during the mover than three months of the struggle. No such bitter political contest was probably ever before waged in this country. The fight has been distinctly on Quay and anti-Quay lines, and both sides had numerous representatives here at all times keeping a close, watch on the members and on each other.

Both sides promise that the contest for supremacy will be carried into every country in the state and waged incessantly until final supremacy is assistanted. The next fight will be on the chairmanship of the state committee. After that will come the battle for the control of the state committee. The seventy-minth ballot, the last to be taken for a United State's treatment.

The eventy-minth ballot, the last to be taken for a United State's senator at the present assistion of the lesislature, resulted: Quay (Rep.), 83; Jenks (Dem.), 85; Jenks (Dem.), 86; Jenks (De Long and Fierce Contest.

under the direction of the war department. Sam Rice, president of the spirits trust and also head of the Kentucky Bourbon trust, took the matter up with officials at Washington. As the result of Mr. Rice's efforts, a big contract was let by the government for spirits. The American Spirits Manufacturing company controls all the principal spirits plants in the country, and the company ensily secured the contract. The first consignment of spirits was sent east a short time ago and amounted to between 200,000 and 400,000 gallons. The greater part of the output of the company plants will be used by the government for some time to come.

THRILLING ADVENTURE OF AN AMERICAN IN NICARAGUA

New Orleans, La., April 19.-Dr. A. J. Chapman of Courtland, Miss., twice

Chapman, who was a surgeon in the insurgent army, tells a fifrilling story of his escape from President Zelaya's forces. He was captured on Feb. 21, near Ramara, while in the company of Stephen Powers, an English subject, and also a member of the revolutionary army. A courtmartial followed the capture, the men being tried as spice. They were condemned to be shot.

A strange feature of the affair is that the sentence was actually enried out. Stephen Powers fell dead at the first fire, but Chapman was merely permitting his executioners to assume that their aim had been true.

Thinking they had killed both men, the soldiers went away. As soon as they were out of sight, Chapman arose, dressed his wound as best he could and then, after some difficulty, made his way to Bluefields. and then, after some difficulty, made his way to Bluefields.

Washington, April 12.—A conference held at the White House today between the president, Secretary Alger, Secretary Long and Adjutant General Carbin resulted in the confirmation of the original decision of the administration to at present refrain from availing itself of the authorization conferred by rengrees to original a volunteer army of 35,000 soldiers in addition to the present regular army.

General Otis latest dispatch, descriptive of the conditions in the Philippines was carefully considered, and it was concluded to accept his estimate of the military needs of the case, so that, as he has already indicated that his present army is sufficient for the purposes he has in view, the decision is tantamount to a residue to accept the stimate of the additional volunteers.

A cubicram was sent to General Otis, however, calling for the necessity for withdrawing the state volunteers from the Philippines, and again asking him whether he would need more mental for he has received the reinforcements now on the way to Manila or under order to embark as soon as the transportation can be secured.

Otis now hote as force believed to aggregate about 22,000 effective men, servetary Alger informed him that the troops now of the way would give him an army of about 20,000 men, after allowing for the return of the state volunteers. This is believed at the war denartment to mere all of the needs of the summer season.

It is intended to withdraw one regiments now in this country to the Philippines as soon as they can be equipped and transported there, though it is not believed they will reach Manila for two or three months. It is also stated that it is quite probable some troops can be withdrawn from that sland for service in the Philippines.

The matter of returning the volunteers was also discussed. The department for sexual conductions in Cuba are such that its each discussed. The department can be added to the conductors.

can be withdrawn from that island for service in the Philippines.

The matter of returning the volunteers was also discussed. The department is arranging for their return to the United States as seen as the necessary transportation can be secured. To General Otis has been left the selection of the organizations to be rent home first, and it is expected be will follow the plan he has outlined of relieving first the men who have been longest in the Philippines.
